VAUDEVILLE AT PUNCHARD

Talent of the School Members Fills Assembly Hall With Appreciative Audience—Substantial Sum Realized for Goldsmith Library

More than one hundred dollars for the Goldsmith library was realized as a result of the vaudeville entertainment given by the pupils in the school last Friday evening. That it was a popular entertainment was evidenced by the fact that every seat was taken and standing room was at a premium. The curtain rose with a lively number by the orchestra, the members of which were seated on the stage against a background of evergreen through which the new moon appeared to be shining.

This was followed by eleven numbers varying widely in character and all affording the audience both pleasure and amusement. The flower dance by Miss Burns, assisted by Messrs. Murray and Locke dressed as gardeners who coaxed the roses from their buds was very pretty. Next came a song by the quartet, which later sang "Marquise" in costume. "The Operation," a shadow picture, was as mirth provoking as any sketch presented. The dexterous doctor carved his patient generously, extracted a variety of articles including a snake, a crab, a monkey wrench, from his vitals, broken down an enlarged liver, mended a broken heart, and sewed him up again to the accompaniment of the heartless laughter of the spectators.

Other pretty dances were the Russian dance in costume by Misses Valentine and Buchanan and a solo dance by Miss Wade. "A Ward's Waxworks," a round dozen figures, were presented by their pompous and bombastic owner and went through the movements characteristic of wax figures; the mechanism of each seeming to be in perfect order, with perhaps the exception of Napoleon's horse, which seemed hardly equal to the strain of the performance.

The upsetting exercises were very up-setting and hardly prepared one for the "Wild Nell," a movie of the wild West, with a fair heroine, cowboy hero, Wild Nell herself, blanketed Indians and galloping horses which was the grand finale of the show. The members of the orchestra were: Violins, Robert Trott, Donald Bassett, Margaret Scott, Joseph Doherty, Ismael Francis, Oscar Spector; mandolins, Stuart Murphy, Edna Albers; banjo-mandolin, Harlan Newton; tenor banjo, Ralph Newton; cello, Ismael.

SARG'S MARIONETTES

All Baba and the Forty Thieves Entertained at George Washington Hall. Afternoon Program for Children.

The Sultan of the Indies and Scherazade his wife, the heroine of the thousand and one tales with All Baba and the forty thieves, all in Lilliputian form, entertained two audiences at George Washington hall on Saturday. In the afternoon the story of "The Three Wishes," a juggling act, a clown and his dog, the march of the wooden soldiers, Jenny Lind, and scenes from Arabian Nights entertained a large number of children.

The really beautiful stage settings, the artistic lighting effects, and the mechanical perfection of the marionettes were appreciated by those who saw All Baba and the Forty Thieves in the evening, and followed their adventures with nearly as much interest as if they too had been children.

The apparitions conjured up by the Sultan's wife, included the Magic Carpet, the Flying Horse, the Genie and the Fisherman, and Sinbad the Sailor.

The faithful donkeys Abou and Mumu, who eloquently expressed their emotions as they were promoted from carrying jagots to being bearers of gold and gems, and Agib, the fiery steed of Danhasch, were quite as popular as most of the human figures and much more so than Cassin, "who died of colic in two pieces."

The dancing of Morgiana, the beautiful and clever slave girl, elicited the most applause from the students, who composed a large part of the audience.

Just before the fall of the curtain, Mr. Sarg stepped onto the stage, and so accustomed were the spectators to looking at the miniature figures, that a human being appeared to be of gigantic size.

There are fifty-two puppets in the cast, each manipulated by sixteen or more almost invisible strings. Mathematically expressed, this means about 9,236 feet of string necessary to carry on the performance. One of the puppets has thirty-two strings to control it.

Each doll has many of the joints common to the human body. To every joint a fine, practically invisible string is attached, leading to a "controller," a small wooden device, held in the hand of the person manipulating the puppet. The "puppeteers," as the operators are called, stand on a sort of elevated platform or bridge, high above the level of the

Mrs. Osgood Addresses League of Women Voters

Mrs. Eva T. Osgood, representing the National Committee on Living Costs of the League of Women Voters, was the speaker at a well attended meeting of the Andover League held at the Phelps House, on Thursday afternoon.

Believing that living costs can only be reduced by co-operation of the consumers, the National committee has arranged a program, whereby the women of the United States may study the relation between tariff legislation, cost of service, overhead charges, trade practices and high cost of living.

There is no more important or vital subject in our lives than our three meals per day, and therefore a grave need exists of informing ourselves not only as to the varying cost of food, but as to the processes through which it passes before reaching our tables.

While government law protects food from poisons and deleterious substances, a study of trade practices shows bleached flour which upon attaining a certain age becomes of the consistency of plaster and about as nutritious; cream manufactured from butter, skim milk and some neutralizing agent; processed cheese made from stale cream, poor butter, inferior cheese and Rochelle salts, ice cream from skim milk, low grade butter and gelatine.

In the past important changes have been accomplished when women as a unit have demanded them. If this capitalization of careless and improper methods of handling our food is to be prevented, the time has come for concerted action.

A social hour followed Mrs. Osgood's talk. Tea was served with Mrs. Charles J. Bailey and Mrs. W. J. Doherty pouring.

The next meeting of the League of Women Voters will be held on January 13, 1927, when Dr. McGillicuddy will talk on "Public Health up to Date."

Clan Johnston to Give Benefit Concert

A benefit concert will be given in the Free Church Parish House on Monday evening, January 10, 1927, by the Clan Johnston chorus and soloists.

Clan Johnston members are giving their services in behalf of a distressed brother clansman and World war veteran. He is not a member of the local clan but is in a hospital near by, alone and thousands of miles from his native land. It is unlikely he will recover and a number of Clan Johnston members are endeavoring to raise enough money to make his remaining days bright.

Clan Murray of Springfield, of which he is a member, is co-operating with the local clan and the patronage of the public is asked. Clan Johnston chorus will put on an excellent program for the occasion. No admission will be charged but those in charge of the benefit hope the collection will be generous.

Legion Elects Officers

Ralph Berry was reelected commander at a well-attended meeting of Andover Post 8, American Legion, held at headquarters Tuesday evening.

Other officers elected were George H. MacKenzie, vice commander; Joseph A. McCarthy, adjutant; Wendell Kydd, financial officer; Hermon Hilton, sergeant at arms; F. E. Cheever, graves registration officer; Albert E. Curtis, P. E. Wilson and Thomas Dea, executive committee.

It is interesting to note that the local post, at this time, has a complete record of the graves in which lie Andover men who took part in the World war.

During the business meeting it was voted to instruct the adjutant to write to the selectmen asking that Phillips street and other streets at their discretion be set off for coasting.

An amendment to the by-laws provides that the annual meeting will hereafter be held on the fourth Tuesday in September, rather than on the second Tuesday in December.

Thus the year of the local post will be from October to October, corresponding with the national and departmental year.

The following entertainment committee was appointed by the commander: Arthur H. Coleman, chairman; Albert Curtis, P. E. Wilson, James F. Welch, Claremont Gray, Hermon Hilton, George H. MacKenzie.

Refreshments of sandwiches, doughnuts, coffee and ice cream were served.

Christmas Tree Sunday at K. of C. Hall

A Christmas tree and entertainment will be held for the children of St. Augustine's parish in the K. of C. hall Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, under the auspices of Andover council, 1078, Knights of Columbus, and Court St. Monica, Catholic Daughters of America. All children of the parish are invited.

The committee: Mrs. John Young, Mrs. Peter Doherty, Mrs. M. A. Burke, Frank McBride, John Cussen and Frank S. McDonald.

"The Mystery"

A beautiful carol service with tableaux, depicting the Christmas story, will be held in Christ church, Friday, Christmas Eve, at six-thirty o'clock.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to join in this truly spiritual beginning of all the Christmas joys and festivities.

The service, which is extremely beautiful, with its joyous old carols and impressive tableaux, is identical with that which was used at the Cathedral last year. Their choir and church school will sing, the girls in their red Christmas capes and white veils. Special soloists will represent the angels, shepherds, Kings, the Seraph and the Virgin.

A special offering will be presented by the Primary Department and one child representing the main school.

Such a service cannot fail to give one the proper feeling for a Merry Christmas.

Gordon S. Brown has charge of the music. Mrs. C. W. Henry, assisted by Mrs. Arthur Bliss and Mrs. J. Oran Sheppard, have prepared the tableaux, and Miss Alice Jenkins has planned the decoration of the church.

PANCAKE SUPPER

Junior Woman's Guild Assisted by Manufacturers of Foodstuffs Entertain at Supper in Parish House.

A novelty in the series of public suppers which have drawn together the people of Andover in the past few weeks, was the pancake and sausage supper held last evening in Christ church parish house, under the auspices of the Junior Women's Guild.

The Jerusalem cherry trees, the red candles and diminutive loaves of Betsy Ross bread in their striped jackets gave the tables a holiday appearance. The menu consisted of crisp sausages with potato chips, pancakes with maple syrup, coffee and apple pie and ice cream. The pancakes were supplied by the Pillsbury Flour company which sent two chefs to fry the cakes.

During the supper there was music on a victrola from Gardner's Temple of Music in Lawrence.

Generous contributions to the supper were made by Thomas E. Rhodes, Morehouse Baking company, J. H. Campion and the Pillsbury Flour company.

Mrs. J. H. Flint was the general chairman and was assisted by the following: Mrs. William Bliss, Mrs. Henry Miller, Mrs. Charles Foster, Mrs. Harry Sellers, Mrs. Ethel Hilton, members of the Girls' Friendly society, Mrs. Henry Archibald, Miss Roxana Smith, Mrs. Christopher Shorten, Miss Atkinson, Miss Russell, Miss Brown, Mrs. Ernest Johnson, Mrs. Fred Westcott, Mrs. Charles Henry, and Mrs. Herbert Nightingale.

Mrs. Fred Adams was elected past chief by virtue of serving four years as mistress of records.

Punchard High to Have Track Team
The lack of facilities has caused Coach Eugene V. Lovely, Punchard High school athletic coach, to decide not to have a basketball team this year. It will be the second straight season that Punchard has been without basketball, but Coach Lovely plans on replacing the sport with track.

The Punchard mentor, however, will be handicapped in building up a track team as there is but one veteran of last year's team available. Phil Allen. The team lost several star performers last season through graduation, outstanding among them being Gordon Cutts, star dash man who is now at Bates.

The girls' team has been organized and will play a regular schedule of games which is now being completed. The team will be captained this year by Frances Metcalf. Practice sessions are being held at the Andover Guild and home games will be played at the Guild.

The Andover schoolgirls will no doubt have both the Johnson and Methuen girls' teams on their schedule. Miss Fox of the faculty is coaching and the instructors at the Guild are assisting.

The boys' track team will not engage in dual meets but Coach Lovely plans on arranging for entries in schoolboy events, and providing there is enthusiasm enough, entries will be made in the schoolboy games to be staged in Boston.

Even though it is the week before Christmas which is conceded to be the hardest in the year in the theatre line, as folks are thinking more of presents than going to the movies, the one week that showmen cuts expenses and puts on cheaper bills, does not make a particle of difference to the management of the above theatre as the coming week's program of photo plays is even above the standard starting Monday with the strong play called "Silence" now running on Broadway, New York, and ending up on Christmas Day with Bebe Daniels in "Stranded in Paris." Miss Daniels, it will be remembered, made a big hit here when showing last in the "Campus Flirt." Every feature this week is a dandy and should not be missed. Coming in the near future are "We're in the Navy Now," "Private Izzy Murphy," "The Last Frontier" and a host of the best pictures produced.

Celebrates Sixth Birthday

Six-year-old Gladys Greenhow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Greenhow of Temple place, was hostess to a number of her little friends last Saturday afternoon when she celebrated her birthday.

There was singing and dancing and games to make the afternoon pass happily, after which there were refreshments of sandwiches, ice cream, a birthday cake and candy.

Among those present were Doris, Livingston, Rita Kinnear, Lindsay Kinnear, Lillian Holden, Jeannette Deyermund, Isabella Vannet, Josephine Paton, James Morrissey, Agnes Carter, Ethel Sorrie, Jack Greenhow, Isabella Greenhow and Gladys Greenhow.

Phillips Academy Notes

Dr. Pfattheicher recently received word from the builders of the organ which is to be installed in George Washington auditorium that the work on it was well under way. The organ will be shipped from St. Hyacinthe, Quebec, on its completion shortly after Christmas. It will be impressively dedicated by Louis Viere, first organist of Notre Dame in Paris. The date for this ceremony is as yet tentative, but it will probably be early in the winter term.

The school has recently received a gift of a Chickering grand Ampico player piano, which is in the new auditorium. In conjunction with this acquisition, the school has procured a considerable library of player piano rolls, which will be used with talks on the history and appreciation of music.

This gives Andover one of the best collections of musical instruments of any school in the country.

Whittemore Is Named Hockey Manager

P. B. Whittemore, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Whittemore of Chestnut street, has been elected playing manager of hockey at New Hampton, N. H.

Candidates for the New Hampton school hockey team have been called out and reported to Coach Werme for the opening practice. A new rink is planned to take the place of the old one, and will soon be under process of construction. Coach Werme is a former Colby puck-chaser. He coached hockey at Tabor academy last winter and turned out a good team.

The schedule is not yet completed, but it includes games with other New Hampshire prep schools; games with some Massachusetts schools are being sought. A hockey game will be a feature at the winter carnival which will be held immediately after mid-year exams in February.

New England's Neighborhood Toll Service

Simple as ABC

Nowadays in New England, calling a distant telephone is as simple as calling a telephone across the street.

“Neighborhood Toll Service,” in every detail, follows the familiar routine of a local call.

Signal your own operator.
Give her the number you want.
Hold the line for a completed connection or a report.

This is the fastest, simplest form of toll service known. Yet along both the highways and byways of speech, the miles must still be dealt with by men and women, and machines. You must not expect quite the speed of local calls.

With a few exceptions, we do not undertake at present to give this service to points beyond our own territory.

We do give it between more than a million telephones in five states. It is thoroughly practical, else it would not be offered.

New England Telephone and Telegraph Company

Communication

To the editor of The Andover Townsman,
DEAR SIR:—
Will you kindly let me have a few inches of space to make a plea for the boys and girls of our town?

I feel sure that the citizens of Andover are vitally interested in having the town authorities do everything within reason to preserve for the children of the community their God-given right to happiness and safety. We are indeed grateful for what our town officials have already done in the way of safeguarding the children of Andover against needless dangers and of opening up for them new recreational facilities. But there is room for still further progress in these two directions. From time immemorial, coasting has been a favorite winter sport with children. And under ordinary conditions this has been a safe and health-producing sport. But the automobile, which with all its unquestioned advantages has by no means proved to be an unmitigated blessing, has made coasting alarmingly dangerous.

It is a shame that grim Death should stalk our snow clad hills to cut down the lives of so many of our boys and girls. But sentimental wallings will not banish the hideous reaper from our midst. Something practical must be done—and that right soon! There is every prospect that we shall have a good deal of snow this winter. This brings to the fore again the ever-recurring question: What measures will our town authorities take toward eliminating the hazards of coasting?

There are two broad solutions that suggest themselves. One of these solutions is to make it unlawful for children to coast on any of the streets of the town. Such a plan, while it may be theoretically sound, is practically unenforceable. And furthermore it would work a rank injustice upon our boys and girls thus to rob them of a wholesome joy to which they are entitled by all the rights of childhood.

The other solution is for the town to set aside certain streets at certain hours in the day for the use of children who may wish to coast on them. It would seem that such streets, for example, as Phillips street or Bartlett street or High street or Walnut avenue might be barred to auto traffic after four o'clock in the afternoon without working great inconvenience to anybody.

It may be urged that automobile owners will never consent to any such curtailing of their liberty to drive when and where they please in Andover. But is it not about time, in view of the lives of children already sacrificed to the automobile, that the automobile made a few sacrifices for the lives of children? Children will coast, danger or no danger. The question is, will our town fathers take practical measures to make it possible for children to coast somewhere in safety? Might it not be possible for the selectmen of Andover to hold a public hearing on this question sometime in the very near future? This is a matter of grave concern to hundreds of parents and others who have the interest of children at heart.

Respectfully,
C. NORMAN BARTLETT

Observe 45th Wedding Anniversary

A very pleasant surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Pullen, 281 South Main street, on Sunday evening, the occasion being the 45th anniversary of their marriage. Neighbors and friends gathered during the evening to wish them well, and also to present as a token of their esteem a pocketbook to Mrs. Pullen and a box of cigars to Mr. Pullen.

A delicious supper of chicken patties, peas, ice cream, coffee and cake was served, and the evening enjoyedly spent in singing Christmas hymns and carols. A pleasing part of the program was the singing of a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Pullen, an old favorite of theirs, “There's a Light in the Valley for Me.”

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Pullen, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Holden, Mr. and Mrs. James Holden, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pullen, Barbara and Muriel Pullen, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. David Munro, Mrs. John Jenkins, Mrs. James Feeney, Byron Feeney, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Billington, Seldon and Marjorie Billington, Herbert Bachman, Clara Hagen, Effie Waites, Reginald Norton.

Andover Guild Notes

The Saturday night dance held last week was the most successful of the season. There was good attendance with the girls and boys in about equal numbers.

Ye Olde Mill orchestra, led by Jack Pillsbury of Lawrence, played excellent music for dancing and has been engaged for the dance tomorrow night. At 7.30 there will be a basketball game between the Punched boys and the Senior Guild boys with dancing beginning at 8.30. Several specialties have been arranged.

The Guild house will close for the Christmas holidays after the classes on the evening of Thursday, December 23, reopening on Monday, January 3. There will be no Saturday night dance either on Christmas or New Year's nights.

Woman's Relief Corps Elects Officers

THE ANDOVER TOWNSMAN

ANDOVER MASSACHUSETTS

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

AT THE PRESS BUILDING BY THE ANDOVER PRESS

Entered at Andover Postoffice as Second Class Matter

The Townsman invites all its readers to contribute their own editorials in the form of communications on topics of general interest. These communications should be signed but the writer's name need not appear in the paper.

On Coasting

The old problem caused by coasting is before us again, earlier and in a more acute form this winter due to the abundant December snow. There have been winters when there was so little snow, or when it fell so late in the season that the question was not a pressing one. But this year we are faced with the situation before the official turn of the season, and although in previous years this matter has always been evaded, it ought now to be definitely settled upon once and for all.

Should certain streets be restricted to coasting during several hours of the day? There are some who answer "No" to this question. They point out, for one thing, that roads are intended for teams and automobiles, and that coasters have no place there. They also remark that all vehicles could not be excluded under any circumstances, because cross streets will be used, some deliveries must be made and owners of cars living on the restricted street have an undeniable right to drive to and from their homes. If, say some of these people, a child is injured by an automobile on such a street, the town itself might be liable. Then comes the question of how many streets are to be so restricted. Naturally each section of the town would like one if another section had one. And there is also the objection having to do with the cost of enforcing such a regulation. Signs, horses, lanterns would have to be purchased, erected daily at a given hour and removed some hours later. An officer ought to be on duty at each street; and such a cost is prohibitive. Finally, some say that the way to settle the matter is to urge children out in fields, or if this is out of the question, to erect a sliding chute in some place where children are safe from all vehicles. Of course, no such thing could be done this year on account of lack of funds, which makes the suggestion impractical.

The Townsman concedes the weight of some of these objections. For the most part, however, they do not prove that the question should be answered in the negative; they simply show that ideal, or perfect protection, is quite impossible. It might be well to examine the arguments briefly. As to vehicles, motor or horse-drawn, having exclusive rights in the road, it can be said that they have no more rights than the authorities are willing to concede. This is so obvious as to be conclusive: witness our one-way streets. It is granted that some vehicles must be permitted on the restricted streets but the necessity of moving a barrier is sufficient to warn drivers of the danger, and to cause them to be extremely careful. If an accident should occur, the Townsman believes that the town would not be liable. This information is obtained from people who ought to know. It is true that a policeman is desirable at each street, if more than one is restricted. And yet if this is impractical, it is in itself no reason why signs and horses cannot be erected. Because we cannot give our children perfect protection, or all the protection they should have, is no reason for giving them none at all. Let us not forget what Lawrence, Boston and numerous other places are doing in this respect.

Coasting is a healthful, invigorating sport and children are indulging in it freely, for which all should feel thankful. And yet, they are not doing so without running serious danger. It is a fact and not a theory that faces us. What is to be done about it? Let them coast until some youngster is killed, or provide as much protection as is practical, right away? The time to settle the question is now, and the Townsman votes "yes" on protecting Andover's children.

Editorial Cider

What appeared to be an objection to the erection of a new light on Chestnut street, just west of Main, now seems removed and there is no evident reason why those in charge cannot go ahead with the job. A letter has already been presented to the Lighting Committee to remove all doubt and expedite installation.

Radcliffe Choral Society at Abbot

The Radcliffe Choral Society, Mr. G. Wallace Woodworth, conductor, gave a concert at Abbot Academy last Monday night before a large and appreciative audience.

Following is the program:
Let Us Now Praise Famous Men
The Lord Is My Shepherd
Lament at Gethsemane (from King David)
Ah—Weep for Saul
Chorale: Break Forth (Christmas Oratorio)
Four Carols
Christmas Song
Bring a Torch
A Dream of Christmas
The Miracle of Saint Nicolas
Three Madrigals
Orpheus with His Lute
Three British Folk Songs:
Oranges and Lemons
The Ploughboy in Luck
Follow me down to Carlow
Hosanna! (final chorus from "Beatitudes")
Harvard University and Radcliffe College, through the persistence and vision of Dr. Davison, have set a new goal for school singing. The music studied is worth while, the aim is serious, the level of performance high. It is certainly a good thing for the secondary institutions that they should have such an example to try to emulate.

In the concert at Abbot, the Radcliffe singers maintained a high level. The attacks were sharp and the nuances subtle. If the singing seemed excessively staccato at times, there were other moments of very beautiful legato singing. At all times the young ladies showed the result of very careful and able training, and it was a joy to see their enthusiasm.

The audience demanded repetition of the English and the Irish folk songs. Both were sung admirably, but the loveliest singing was done in Edward German's "Orpheus with his lute."

A Correction

The owners of the Waldo place on Ballardvale road wish to state that the property was not sold to Patrick F. Donovan of North Main street owing to a difference in the amount of land advertised and the amount which was actually found to be after it had been surveyed. It has, however, been sold to James E. Kean of Binney street.

Interesting Scout Meeting

Troop 3 of the Andover Boy Scouts held an interesting meeting last Friday evening at the South church.

Two scouts passed the tenderfoot test. A demonstration of first aid and signaling was given by Scoutmaster Roderick Cannon. Games were played. Several Troop 3 boys attended the Court of Honor at Pynchard High school.

After the meeting the pledge of allegiance was taken and the Scout oath and laws repeated. The call to the colors was sounded, followed by taps which concluded the evening's exercises.

Report of the Red Cross Roll Call

Ten Tenth Annual Red Cross Roll Call has been brought to a close with the total collection of $3096.88.

The town and schools were canvassed by over 100 volunteer workers and the generosity of our residents have made possible the sum of $2130.38 for our local work.

Both Abbot and Phillips Academies have helped very materially to swell our fund, Abbot being nearly 100 percent membership and Phillips with 500 students joining.

Letters were sent out at the beginning of the drive with the hope that more people would see and feel the necessity of giving more than their annual membership. The gifts coming in stay in Andover, and the funds from them are carefully administered for the general welfare of the town.

The pupils at Pynchard under the direction of Mr. Mervin Stevens again mimeographed our letters. It being purely volunteer work, their contribution to the Red Cross, for which we thank them.

We are indebted to Miss Eve Cross for distributing the posters, to the captains and lieutenants for their faithful service and again to Mrs. Francke for her good work in the interest of our publicity.

Thanks too are due The Andover Press for the space given to us in the Townsman.

Obituary

MARK F. FOXON

Mark F. Foxon, forty-two, a salesman for the U. S. Rubber Co., died at his home 195 Parkside avenue, Syracuse, N. Y., at 5:35 p.m., Friday, December 10th.

He was at one time a resident of Andover, residing at 26 High street for four years.

He was a member of the United Commercial Travelers, Flower City Council of Rochester, N. Y., Star of Bethlehem Lodge, A. F. and A. M., Chelsea, Mass., and Royal Arch Chapter of Shekinah, and Andover Chapter No. 187, O. E. S.

Surviving are his wife, Edith Thornton Foxon, two daughters, Elaine and Phyllis Foxon, his father, three brothers and five sisters.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Horace Memorial Baptist Church, Chelsea. Burial in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

The Fox-Burgin-Bedetti Trio

Despite the usual storm, plus two closely competing performances by the Tony Sarg Marionettes, and wide-spread chamber music ataxia, about one hundred and fifty genuine music-lovers journeyed to the George Washington auditorium and the Elysian fields last Friday evening. There is no finer form of music than the trio, or the string quartette, and when such music is presented as beautifully as it was last Friday evening by the Fox-Burgin-Bedetti Trio, one only regrets that there were not many more present to share the beauties of the occasion. The Schumann trio has been played in Andover before by the local musicians who have afforded much pleasure in times past by the high degree of excellence of their performances. The Lalo trio was probably performed for the first time and confirmed the impression made some years ago by his beautiful violin concerto, first introduced to the public by Sarasate, that Lalo has something to say, and that his music has interest and charm melodically, rhythmically and harmonically. One longs to hear his other two trios.

It was delightful also to hear the artists in solo numbers. Mr. Burgin played with brilliant technique and clarity. We have never heard Mr. Fox play more beautifully in Andover. His selections and their arrangement also added to the impression he made—the Rachmaninoff prelude in g minor, becoming almost as familiar as its more famous sister, the dreamy Chopin Nocturne and the bravura Liszt Rhapsody. To be sure the glissando passages of the last give one as much respect for the hardihood of the pianist's finger-nails as for the musical content. The number was brilliantly played. It was a pity that Mr. Bedetti insisted so strongly upon convincing his audience of his dexterity or of the technical possibilities of the cello. On neither point do we need persuasion, and a chase, a dragon-fly and a bumble bee are too much for one evening on the lyricist par excellence.

Elect Football Captain

The letter men of the Puncard high football squad chose Thomas Morrissey, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morrissey of Temple place, to lead the 1927 Andover high school eleven. Morrissey, who is a junior at Puncard, is seventeen years old, is six feet one inch tall and weighs 210 pounds. He has played either at tackle, guard or fullback for the Puncard eleven for the past two years and has always given a fine account of himself.

Miss Portia Clough, domestic science teacher, assisted by twenty young ladies of the senior class served a delicious turkey supper to the boys and the latter thoroughly enjoyed the excellent spread prepared and served by the girls. The hall was decorated with the colors of the Puncard school and the Johnson-Puncard game football was on the head table in memory of the battle which gave the suburban championship to the Lovely-coached team.

Speeches were made during the evening by Coach Eugene V. Lovely, who for the past sixteen years has been head coach of all Puncard athletic teams; Nathan C. Hamblin, principal of the school; Henry C. Sanborn, superintendent of the Andover public schools; and by Myron Gutterson, representing the Alumni. Other speeches were made by manager Luther Gulick, Miss Portia Clough of the Domestic Science department and by each member of the varsity eleven.

After the election of next year's leader, Coach Eugene V. Lovely was called upon to give a speech. In his talk he spoke of the wonderful work that his boys had done, giving them the credit for going through such a fine season and hoping that next year's team would be even better. He spoke of the scholastic ratings of the boys and hoped that in the spring when baseball started and next fall when football season again comes round, that all his candidates will be up in their studies and will be eligible to compete on the teams.

Nathan C. Hamblin, principal of the school, also spoke of the fine scholastic ratings of the Puncard boys, as a whole. He mentioned the fact that early in the season several of the star players were "down" but that they showed excellent efforts in their work which enabled them to compete in the later games of the season. The principal also agreed with the coach that all the boys should first maintain a good scholastic record and then consider athletics.

In starting his speech Myron Gutterson, representing the Puncard Alumni, stated that he was attending his ninth banquet given to a Puncard football team in the school hall and with the monster one which was given Coach Lovely by the townspeople last year, it was his tenth. During the season Mr. Gutterson missed but four games although he stated that it was through no fault of his own. He closed with saying that he hoped next year's team would be even a little better than this year's.

The final speaker of the evening was Superintendent of Schools Henry C. Sanborn. He told the boys to remember their scholastic work throughout the season, and now that football is over to get down to real hard and earnest work just as they did while out on the gridiron this past fall. He complimented the squad as a whole on the splendid work it did on the field and hoped that next year's team will do it well if not better.

Of the thirty boys on the squad who enjoyed Monday evening's supper, eight will be back at Puncard for another year or more of football. This gives Mr. Lovely a nucleus for the coming fall and he will have a fine chance at the start of next season to build another championship eleven.

Those who will be in the team through graduation are ex-Captain Danny Doyle, William Emmons, Mayhew Stickney, William Bradford, Howard Trott, Walter Disbrow, Irving Whitcomb, Donald Bassett, John Hilton, Joseph Doherty, William Murphy, and Manager Luther Gulick.

Among those present Monday evening were ex-Captain Danny Doyle, William Emmons, John Hall, William Bradford, Malcolm Murphy, Edwin Russell, James Nicholas, Howard Trott, Warren Shiers, Frederick Ladd, Jr., Chris Murphy, Albert Gibson, Timothy Hurley, Walter Disbrow, captain-elect Thonon Murphy, Walter Bates, Irving Whitcomb, Donald Bassett, Walter Markey, John Hilton, George Forsythe, Edward York, Joseph Doherty, James Gallant, Phillip Allen, Aubrey Polgreen, William Murphy and Manager Luther Gulick, Coach Eugene V. Lovely, Principal Nathan C. Hamblin, Superintendent of schools Henry C. Sanborn and Myron Gutterson of the Alumni association.

The Domestic Science girls who worked under the leadership of Miss Portia Clough, teacher, were Rose Arsenault, Margaret Scott, Margaret Morrissey, Marjorie West, Katherine Riley, Charlotte Gillespie, May Elander, Daisy Stevens, Viola Burton, Marjorie Low, Eleanor Keith, Annie Jamieson, Anetta Anderson, Frances Metcalf, Evelyn Mayer, Evelyn Miller, Edna Albers and Irene Poisson.

Record of Puncard Teams

The Puncard high school football season that ended Saturday, December 4, with an overwhelming victory over the Johnson high school eleven, was the 16th season that the Puncard team has been in charge of the fall sport at the local high school.

Mr. Lovely began his coaching duties at Puncard in 1911, and since that year his football eleven have won 86 games, lost 31, and tied 13.

The Andover mentor has had four eleven that did not meet with defeat during a season, while four other of his eleven suffered but one defeat in each year.

The Puncard coach has done a remarkable job down through the years, especially when it is realized that he never has had more than twenty-five boys to work with in any season. Mr. Lovely has always had the confidence of his charges, and the respect of the townspeople, who appreciate the excellent work he has done for the school boys.

The record Coach Lovely's football eleven since he began his duties at the Andover school follows:

Year	Wins	Losses	Ties
1912	8	1	0
1913	9	0	1
1914	8	0	2
1915	5	1	1
1916	5	1	1
1917	7	0	1
1918	3	1	1
1919	5	2	0
1920	1	6	0
1921	6	2	1
1922	3	5	0
1923	7	2	0
1924	7	0	2
1925	6	2	0
1926	5	3	1
Totals	85	31	13

Captain Dan Doyle, Will Murphy, Irving Whitcomb, Bill Emmons, Walter Disbrow, Don Bassett, John Hilton, Mayhew Stickney and James Gallant are all members of the senior class at the Andover high school and have played their last football game as a member of a Lovely coached team.

The Andover mentor will have, however, a good nucleus to start the 1927 season with, as Walter Batcheller, John Hall, James Nicholas,

Tom Morrissey, Phil Allen and Mal Murphy, all of whom were first string players, are members of the lower classes at Puncard and are expected to be available next fall.

Other boys who will be strong candidates for the eleven are Stillman Lawrence, Fred Ladd, Jr., Ralph Murphy, Chris Murphy and George Forsythe. The above mentioned youngsters participated in several of the games this season, and the experience gained will be a big help to them next fall.

Individual Point-Scorers for Year
Walter Batcheller, who flashed in the Puncard-Johnson suburban championship game, was the leading point-scorer of the season for Puncard. He registered a total of 58 points for the Andover eleven during the season. Willie Murphy vied him for honors with a total of 51.

Lawrence Colby was the leading point-scorer for the season for the Johnson team with 51. Jack Armstrong was runner-up with a total of 24 points.

Otis Elected to B. U. Honorary Society

J. Henry Otis of Andover, a student at the College of Business Administration of Boston University, has been honored by election to "Skull," the junior honorary society at the college. Choice for membership in the organization goes to the men adjudged most prominent in their class in studies, student activities, ability, leadership, and other qualities.

Otis was one of nine men "tapped" for membership in Skull, the tapping being performed at midnight at the annual formal dance of the organization. Otis is manager of varsity basketball this year, having been an assistant manager for two years; he is treasurer of the "Syllabus," the college junior year book; and during his three years in college has been a member of the House of Representatives, the college student government association. Otis has also been on the cross-country squad and during his first year in college was manager of freshman basketball and on the freshman baseball team.

The Junior Helpers of the Congregational church held their Christmas meeting in the vestry of the church on Monday afternoon at four o'clock. The candy and food table was presided over by Drina Gollan and Grace Magurn and was very well patronized.

Ten of the members staged the play, "The First Christmas Morning." The girls were dressed in white costumes and each one carried a jug or pitcher to fill at the well.

While filling the jugs they recounted the happenings of the night before in Bethlehem, of seeing wonderful bright lights and hearing beautiful music, and how the inn was so crowded that they had no room for Mary and Joseph.

Soon Miriam appears before them and tells them what they had seen and heard were real and that the child Jesus was born in a manger.

COMMUNITY TREE

Woman's Club Will Have Charge of Celebration in Village Square.
Carol Singing by Children

The Shawsheen Village Woman's club is again to take charge of the Christmas celebration in the village and following the custom of previous years the Community Christmas tree in the square will be illuminated with electric lights. The lights will be turned on at five o'clock on Christmas eve.

There will be carol singing again this year by the Shawsheen school children, directed by Miss Genevieve McNally and Miss Miriam Sweeney, supervisor of music in the public schools. This feature of the celebration should cause everyone to make just a little extra effort to be present as the children have been carefully drilled by the school teachers. A brass quartet from the Arlington mills band of Lawrence will assist in the carols.

The Woman's club is extending a most cordial invitation to everyone to be present with them at the Christmas tree and join in the carol singing.

Tailenders Take Four

The Jays had a merry time keeping pace with the Tyreans last Wednesday night in a Square and Compass club bowling match in the Shawsheen alleys and for a while it looked as though they were at last going to fall. The Tyreans took the first string by 12 pins and a fine spare in the last box of the second one by Ralph Hadley gave them that one by a lead of four. With a lead of 16 pins, the Tyreans started away on the final string to make it a clean sweep but someone mislaid the broom and when it was all over the Jays had won by 24 pins, wiping away the Tyreans' lead and giving them the total by eight. The leaders had a worried look for the greater part of the night and a couple of missed spares in the final boxes was all that saved them. Robertson hit 111 and 308 for the high scores.

The Biffs surprised themselves and the world in general by winning four from the Hiramans. The Kimball and Bob Crockett added to the surprise by totalling 105 and 103 in the final string. Harry Wadman of the losers turned in the best scores, hitting 112 and 282. Had there been more like him his team might have won a point or two.

And to make the evening complete, K. R. Batcheller's team took four from the second-place Cairns. The defeat put the Cairns in a tie for the second position with the Tyreans. K. R. did the best bowling of the losers, hitting 101 for high single and 280 for best triple.

Barrett PITCH & FELT ROOFS

A wearing surface of slag or gravel is essential to right roof construction.

It holds in place a heavy, top-coat of pitch, making possible the use of more than twice the amount of waterproofing material otherwise practical. This adds greatly to the life of the roof.

It interposes an armor plate of fire-proof rock between the building and flying embers.

It protects against surface wear.
